

Gift suggestions for Newborn to 2 year old children

0-6 Months Babies can't yet grasp objects, so they tend to use their ears and eyes to experience play. Go for toys that make noise or have high-contrast, black-and-white, or brightly colored images.

6-12 Months As they're mastering their motor skills, babies who can sit up enjoy toys they can bang, stack, put in and take out, and open and shut. Once they start moving, find toys that move along with them.

1-2 Years Fueled by curiosity and wonder, incredibly active toddlers need toys for physical play—walking, climbing, pushing, and riding. Imaginative and educational toys are also highly beneficial.
